

The hospital authorities could not permit such a risk, yet a refusal would cast a public stigma on the professional standing of a reputable man, and might bring damage upon against the city for such humiliation.

EVENING WEAR --AT BERRY'S

What About Colored Physicians? We have in Richmond some negro doctors, who are not only men of good character, but of professional ability.

This suit is a pass from the crowd into the King Row. It will give 100 points on looks.

The cloth, linings, designs, cut, every point absolutely up to the hour.

Price, $39.50. Everything, from collars to socks, to complete the picture.

Tuxedo Coats to match the Full Dress coat, $22.00.

You see by buying a Full Dress Suit and Tuxedo Coat here, you practically have two suits!

Brings Much More Here. The Medical College is not asking one cent from the city of Richmond. It is only asking the city to do what it already desires to do--to make provisions for the city's sick, poor, and aged.

General Assembly Must Consent. The Richmond plan is proposed to ask the General Assembly to adopt an enabling act, which will permit the amalgamation of the Medical College of Virginia, under that board, and the location of the medical department in Richmond.

Have Prospect of Endowment. People of large means who give liberally to the support of medical education have been approached on this subject, but so long there were no competing schools in the State, such people would not donate their money.

Within Police Powers of State. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Washington, December 26.--From the meagre information in my possession it would appear that the Calumet disaster is purely a statutory crime, solely within the police powers of the State.
